Introduction

Making money online, online jobs allow you to work from the comfort of your own home. However, many folks fear that the cost of online business is prohibitive. You can earn money online without spending a lot of money to start. Switch on your computer and get to work.

Google the terms "freelance writer" or "freelance article" and you will get over 14 million sites to start researching.

You will find sites where you can bid on jobs to get paid for writing articles, sites where you can learn how to write article, sites that publish your articles for free. You decide how you want to proceed, you will not have to have a website to write and sell articles just you and your computer and no money is needed to get started, only time and determination.

Tip: If you are not motivated then you will not succeed at anything, so get it in your mind to succeed no matter what the cost in terms of learning and writing. Learning how to make money online will require some effort.

Google "sell stuff online" and get 69 million resources. You can find places that have items for you to sell, places that will take care of the shipping of the products. You can find places to sell your own stuff and places that will sell your stuff if you have access to products.

Google "affiliate marketing" and get 41 million resources. Sell other people's products online and get a commission it's straightforward and easy to get started for little or no money. You need a website so go to Google and type in "free Website" for 296 million resources.

Tip: I have made some of the research a little easier by putting together some of the steps that I use. Good luck and never never quit.

Step 1: Genuine Ways Of Making Money Online

Earning money online is not that difficult until we can find the exact sites to earn money online. Also there are different ways of online earning opportunities among which some are more popular than other.

Earning Money Writing Articles:-

Right now there are many sites which provide money for writing articles. Articles may be related to anything. Some sites gives money for writing particular types of articles and some accept any types of articles. Some sites provide information regarding the topic for writing the article. Some people make this as a full time business too.

Generally writing articles is not that easy job and needs a lot of practice. Article writing is something like a boon which can be achieved but you need to follow some rules and regulations. This makes your articles more attractive and people don't get bored while reading.

Now coming to the payment, some sites after submitting articles gives offer for your articles and asks whether you like it or not. Some sites informs the money you are going to get before you write articles and some sites gives money according to the number of visitors for your article.

Earning Money Completing surveys:-

Surveys are a set of queries which you need to answer. In general surveys are a series of questions for which you need to give your opinion. Generally earning money through surveys is more in US and Canada because more survey sites are concentrated there. You need to complete your profile in which you need to fill some details like your occupation, hobbies, education status, personal details and lot more. After completing these, you are allotted surveys which match your profile.

Generally each survey varies from $1 to $5. The more money you get for a survey the more time it takes to complete. A typical survey will be around 10 to 15 min. Generally survey sites provide individual payouts, i.e. if you earn $2 for a survey your paypal account will be updated with that money. But some survey sites keep a minimum payout and after reaching that minimum threshold you will be allotted checks.

Earn money writing reviews:-

This is also another popular way of earning money. Here you need to register with the companies first before writing reviews. Generally companies want reviews about products that are new to market as people need to know about the product. More review sites like reviews related to computers, mobiles, gadgets etc as they are the more fast moving products.

So coming to the pay that you will be getting for each review will be around $2. Some sites give incentives and some sites give both straight money and also incentives too. Right now this is also a very good opportunity for earning money.

Earn Money Through Blogging:-

This is one of the most popular way of earning money online. Though this is the toughest way of earning money which takes more time to earn, this is best way of earning money. For the first few months until your site gets some traffic you will not be getting any money from your blog. That will be a very hard time until your blog gets some popularity. Once the blog gets popular then people can start earning money.

Right now it's hard to find good blogs because they need to be updated regularly. Generally developing blogs need some patience. Once the patience is lost it's difficult to maintain the blog. Generally blog owners, from the starting of the blog try to earn money since the blog has started and if they can't earn then they loose interest and the blog automatically dies. So, it's something like a business which needs more patience.

Earn Money By Affiliate Marketing:-

Affiliates are something like a part of a company and the way affiliate marketing works is simple. You need to promote the products they give and if people buy those products from you, then you will be given some percentage in the sale. This is one of the difficult businesses but which can produce shower of dollars if you know the secret. Right now on the internet there are very good tutorials for learning the tricks. So this is also a good way to earn but right now there is a big competition to make money like this. Hence if you are opting then you will enter into a fierce competition and if stand top from the peers then you can see the full time earning opportunity and you can quit your job. A great way to do affiliate marketing is to combine it with email marketing, which I talk about in steps 4 & 5.

Earn Money Participating In Forums:-

This is also a part of online earning opportunities, which is gaining its craze in the last few months. Right now there are many forums which are giving money for participating. So people are participating in many forums at the same time so all the collected earnings will give you handsome amount of money. But for writing in forums some rules should be followed. If they are not followed then the administrator of the forums will ban the accounts. Hence if the rules are followed correctly then its easy to earn money from these forums. Right now we can earn simultaneously in three ways at the same time actively participating in forums.

It is sure a very good part time and even can convert to a full time if you are to totally dedicate.

Step 2: How to Make Money Online From Home

Let's begin with what you need, to begin earning money online:

- 1) You need targeted traffic - Traffic boils down to eyeballs or individuals on the internet. You need individuals that are already searching for exactly what you have to offer. I'll discuss that in a minute.
- 2) You require leads conversion - From that traffic you have to produce leads. A lead is simply a person that has actually linked to you and has showed interest in what you provide (item, service, message, opportunity).
- 3) You need sales conversion - Okay so now that you're generating leads, you need to begin to generate sales. The leads that you create will eventually purchase exactly what you're offering and this is how you start making sales.

Required tools to make it work from home

OK so exactly what was explained above may sound complex, and it can be if you're attempting to do everything yourself. It is why you need the right software tools that are going to help the above process be smooth and simple. The following tools are exactly what makes possible for you to make a considerable income online on autopilot with just 1-3 hours of work. Here they are:

- 1) You need a laptop computer or PC to work on and internet connection - That's evident and self-explanatory, right?
- 2) You need a high quality service or product to provide - Something I found is that countless people are looking for solutions to their problems online. I was searching online for a method to generate income from home since I wanted flexibility to invest more time with my daughter and do the important things I enjoy doing.

So because I thought of myself looking for a solution, I saw that there were thousands and thousands of individuals browsing for solutions to their issues too. With that being said, you require a high quality product that fixes problems in a mass market.

For instance, let's state somebody is searching on Google for "how to lose 5 lbs in 3 weeks". If you had an item that provided that individual that option, don't you think that individual would be more likely to purchase that item from you, if they found your solution online? Hecky yeah!

3) You require a system! This is it! As soon as you have the item you're going to need a system that it's going to do the selling and informing on your behalf. This system is made up of 3 main parts.

-A capture page or a.k.a squeeze page - I mentioned above that generating leads it's part of the process. A capture page serves that purpose. It offers the visitor a chance to check out your offer in exchanged of their email.

-As quickly as the visitor enters their email, they become your lead. Now that they provided you with their email, you can now follow up with them and reintroduce them to the offer in case they didn't purchase your offer or didn't have a time to view the details about your it.

-An autoresponder - After a person enters their email on the capture page you require a software that will store their email and handle it. This is where an autoresponder comes in.

-Not just you'll have the ability to send an email out to numerous people one time, but you can likewise setup automated emails that can be sent instantly when a person subscribes and become your lead.

-Consider an autoresponder as an individual assistant that can send out emails on your behalf. This is a must have for automation and for list building. The larger the list of people interested in your products, service or opportunity, the more cash you make.

-A Sales video - A sales video is a video your lead will be directed to after they enter their email on the capture page. This video will explain or give more details about the offer. Then the lead will have the chance to make a purchase of such product and services.

-A check out kind - When the person views the sales video and chooses that what is being offer is ideal for them. That person will have the option to click on a buy or an add to haul button, which then will direct them to the checkout page to make a purchase.

4) Learn to get traffic (visitors on the internet) to your system- Getting traffic is the gas of to the engine. Simply put, if you're not getting traffic you're not getting your money system going. If you're brand-new to this, naturally you'll need proper training to execute, however they're simple tasks to do as soon as you get the hang of it.

That's how you do it. It might look like a great deal of details, but it's very simple to make an income online when you have the right software, the right people, and the proper training at your service.

Step 3: Use These 2 Tips To Make Money Online

Here are 2 very important tips to make money online:

Focus On 1 Proven System And Stick To It

If you jump around from one proven system to another, then you are setting yourself up for failure. If you really want to succeed and make money online, then you need focus on one proven system and give it the time it needs to produce results. Most upcoming internet marketers will go online excited to begin making millions online, but never really put in the work required to make it a reality. Doing some research, finding a proven technique are all good steps to follow, but if you are switching back and forth between strategies then you will never make substantial income online.

You have to realize that you are not going to make millions online overnight. Even the most aggressive marketers online didn't make their first sale online for several weeks before they started seeing results.

Be Aggressive And Consistent

I can tell you how many people tell me that they have tried to make money online for years. The truth of the matter is honestly, if you have been at it for years and not made a decent amount of money online then you have been going at it the wrong way. If you put in 10 hours one day and don't put in anymore time for a week or two, then you are setting yourself up to fail. If you want to succeed as an online marketers, you will need to be aggressive and consistent every day until you get where you want to be. Once you get to that level, you can delegate some of your time consuming duties and concentrate on taking your next steps.

If you follow these two simple steps, you will be in a position to make a lot of money online and do whatever you always wished you could do, but never could because of money. So start right now by taking an aggressive and consistent approach. Following these two steps is the only way to make a lot of money online and join the big leagues of internet marketing.

The world of internet marketing can be a tough field to get into and be successful, but if you are committed anything is possible. Don't get hung up if you only make a few sales in your first few weeks, because in time those few sales will turn into hundreds of sales as long as you stand by your product or the product you are promoting for someone else.

Step 4: List Building Essentials - Why You Should Build A List Online

Having a website and products or information that you want to sell or give to other searches will be easier for you to do with a list build online. Yes, you want to generate traffic to your site the "traditional" ways; search engines, ppc ads, forum marketing, article marketing, etc. But having a great list online is also a great way to promote and generate traffic to your site. As you know, building a list is the first step to promoting your website, however, it is NOT a one time thing you do.

You must continue to build your list, revise your list, rethink your list, and continuously add to your list. Building your online list is the best way to generate more exposure to your site and will aid greatly in you directing more awareness about your site and what it has to offer. The one mistake that kills any web site is that people stop building their list and really don't build it online.

The online community is such a vast open arena and if you don't take advantage of what it has to offer you, (more people, sites, or communities on your list) then you aren't doing justice for your site and when it fails (mark my word it will) you will only have yourself to blame. Why should you build a list online? Because you care and want your site to succeed. It is the simple. Continue to build your list and branch on into every community you can think of. In return; seeking to gain more exposure and more benefits for both you and your site.

Step 5: List Building Beginnings - How To Build A List Online

Building a list online is vital to your internet website. You spent time and probably money designing your web site and generating traffic and views is the goal of the web site. If you probably build your list online and continue to work at it you will have traffic and exposure to your site everyday!

These simple steps will guide you in building your list online.

1. Determine who your targeted audience is. First start off very narrow and broaden it out as you determine who and what relates to that audience.
2. Find web pages, business, forums, blogs, etc related to that audience.
3. Branch off with related matches. If your site is about shoes, naturally your primary audience will be women, but you will want to branch off to men as well. Usually the need of shoes comes from certain apparel. Locate apparel sites that will offer you space.
4. Use social networking, article marketing, forum marketing, as well as bulk mailing and traditional internet marketing. These will all aid in your list building.
5. Create contacts no matter how unlikely it may seem. You never know who is connected to them and how that can later benefit you!

Building your list online is simple. Figure out who the audience is, broadening your sector by using affiliates. Use links to your sites as well as redirection pages. Building your list is vital to keeping your website viewed. Everyday you should spend some time building on to your list. Making new contacts and exchanging material will aid in the success of your site.

Step 6: Making Money Online - Is It Really Worth My Time?

If you are working harder and harder in a traditional job and seeing little reward then it might be about time to consider embracing the digital age and starting your own part-time online business. But can you really make money online?

The Online Business World Does Pay.

The internet has created millions for some people who had that little bit of nuance, guile and commitment to turn their ideas into reality. Not every online entrepreneur is a millionaire but there are many people who earn a comfortable second income thanks to their own online business.

What Route Will You Choose?

There is an idea out there for everyone to earn their first dollar online. The rapid advancement of the internet is generating unbelievable opportunities for men and women from all walks of life. From software developers (who have designed big ticket software solutions to help search engine optimization) to work-from-home internet marketing affiliates who sell other people's products and services online to niche markets.

Low Set Up Costs.

When you set up your own online business from home you don't have to spend large amounts of money on office rent, employees or stock. All you need is a computer and access to the internet. You can produce and sell your own products or you can work as an affiliate marketer and not have to worry about creating products, sorting out payment systems or organising the product delivery.

An Online Business Is Flexible.

You can run an online business around you and your family needs. Those online entrepreneurs who work full time from home can manage their affairs and private life in the way that accommodates them. No thoughts of guilt as you ask to your boss to leave early because you have to take your child to the doctor.

You Need To Be Committed.

Commitment, motivation and discipline will need to be maintained if you start your own online business. Some do find it challenging to work from home in the evening after working a traditional job during the day. As good as the internet is, there are many distractions from the likes of social media, online videos and just surfing the net, jumping from website to website.

The Digital Economy Is Here To Stay.

On balance, the pro's of being at the helm of your own work from home online business would seem to outweigh the cons, and by quite a distance. As you mull it all over in your mind, just remember this one final thought. The world is changing and the digital economy is here to stay. More and more people are going online to look for products and services to buy. You can be part of the online business revolution or you can ignore it and let others make money online while you sit back and ignore it.

Regardless of your age, education or technical skills there are no specific requirements for being a successful online entrepreneur. However you will be more successful if you have a solid business model to work from, clear direction and support.

Step 7: How To Make Money Online - Do Not Take Shortcuts

There are many proven ways to generate income from online marketing, which include Google AdSense, affiliate programs, ClickBank and much more. Do you remember the old saying that "Time is Money"? So if you know some of the ways to make money online and in a guaranteed fashion, then this is a phrase you should learn to live by.

You will see a great number of products which advertise, "Get Rich Quick" or "Instant Online Income" but if you are looking to make money online with a higher degree of certainty, then you must realize that you will most likely "get back what you put in". Do not expect to get rich overnight or even in a few weeks, because it is unlikely to happen.

Making money online is a process for 99% of those who attempt it. While some strike it lucky with ideas that take off and blow up, most people must put significant time and effort into their online business before it thrives and begins to make any significant money.

Just think about how many hours over the past month have you watched television, played around on Facebook or read fiction novels? Just in the last month you have no doubt spent dozens hours of your free time doing activities which not only take your free time, but take your money as well. If you want to make money with an online venture, then just think of what you could create in the hundreds of hours of your spare time over the years which you have wasted on sometimes worthless activities.

It's not whether you will make money online, but more a matter of "How Much Money" you will make. If you put your time and effort into your honest internet business you will make an income that is almost guaranteed. The amount that you will make depends on any number of factors which include;

- The niche of your online business,
- How you monetize your site,
- Your site design,
- How much you spend on advertising,
- Your social media presence and its alignment with your internet business

You may now be wondering at this point as to how it can be guaranteed that you will make money online. The answer to this question is a matter of how serious you are about doing so and having the dedication to avoid any get-rich-quick type schemes which will have you end up flat on your face with a failed online business project. Rather than taking the first shortcut you see, why not use the best internet business training program?

While you certainly wouldn't go jumping right into being an airplane pilot without the necessary training, there are thousands of people who every day try to start an internet marketing businesses with no training at all. What then happens is that over 90% fail and give up within the first couple months because they thought they would make money quite easily. It is not about just buying a product or service that makes extravagant claims without any independently verified evidence.

If you do things correct the first time then making money online is simply a numbers game. Once you learn from a tried and authentic internet business training program, the amount of money you make from your online business will steadily increase. With proper monetization strategies the number of website visitors will be directly related to the income your website or blog online business generates
